(The Department and Company collectively are referred herein as the Parties.)

- A. Company is a Delaware based company with the principle place of business at 10250 Constellation Blvd., Ste. 100, Los Angeles, CA 90067 and in the business of providing money to consumers in advance of particular pay periods. The funds Company provides to the consumer through this advance pay product is not the full amount of the consumer's wages earned but not yet paid out, but rather limited to a portion thereof (the "Advance Pay Product").
- B. Company's Advance Pay Product is non-recourse and consumers do not have the absolute obligation to repay. In connection with the Advance Pay Product, Company has not, and will not, send any accounts to collections, sell any accounts to debt buyers, or pursue legal actions against consumers. Company asks customers to check a box to agree to repay the amount provided to them, but does not ask them to sign a formal agreement. Additionally, Company charges no fees, interest or other charges to consumers for the Advance Pay Product (Company stopped charging NSF fees on January 1, 2021). The consumer pays Company back through electronic funds transfer (EFT) directly from the consumer's bank account within a short period of time, usually within 30 days.
- C. On January 1, 2021, the California Consumer Financial Protection Law (CCFPL), Financial Code section 90000, et seq. will become effective. The CCFPL provides the Department with authority to regulate and investigate certain consumer financial providers such as the Company. Company offers a consumer financial product or service through its Advance Pay Product as defined in the CCFPL and thus is a "covered person" as defined in Financial Code section 90005(f).
- D. Pursuant to the CCFPL, Financial Code section 90009(f)(2), the "department may require any covered persons and service providers participating in consumer financial services markets to file with the department, under oath or otherwise, in the form and within a reasonable period of time as the department may prescribe by rule or order, annual or special reports, or answers in writing to specific questions, as necessary for the department to fulfill its monitoring, assessment, and reporting responsibilities.”

- E. Company offers other products subject to licensure by the Department under the California Financing Law (“CFL”) number 60DBO-46293. In connection with its offering of the Advance Pay Product, Company enters into this Memorandum in the spirit of cooperating with the Department in its review of various companies providing similar products to consumers. Except for the Advance Pay Product, Company and the Department acknowledge that any loans reported to the Department under Company’s CFL will not be subject to the requirements of this Memorandum. Company also acknowledges that it made changes to its loan offerings on January 1, 2021 whereby all lending products currently offered by the Company are offered under and compliant with the CFL. As such, Company is not currently offering the Advance Pay Product to any consumers in California. However, should Company offer the Advance Pay Product in the future, Company is subject to this MOU as long as the MOU is in effect.

- F. The Department acknowledges that Company has been and intends to continue doing business in the State of California. The Department desires to obtain regular reports concerning Company’s business activities to allow it to evaluate the benefits and risks that Company and the Advance Pay Product pose to California consumers, whether the Company’s Advance Pay Product is a loan, and whether the Advance Pay Product subjects Company to the California Financing Law or any other provision of California law.

- G. Subject to Financial Code section 90009(f)(2), Company will provide true and accurate information under oath and subject itself to regular periodic onsite examinations as requested by the Department pursuant to the terms to this Memorandum.
