FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Deceptive Acts or Practices, Deposit-Taking Activities

- 9. Beginning in at least May 2019, Robinson offered services as a custodian of consumer funds, to at least two California residents (Consumers), after she learned of the death of their mother, and of their impending inheritance. Robinson convinced the Consumers to transfer $194,000 to her, and represented that:
  - She would provide deposit-taking or custodial account services on their behalf through a brokerage account;
  - b. Their funds would be held in escrow;
  - c. Their money would grow 10% annually; and
  - d. They could withdraw funds at any time.

- 10. In truth and in fact, these funds were not held in escrow, nor did Robinson invest any of the money on the Consumers' behalf or purchase any securities. Instead, Robinson created fake account records of account balances through "Robinson Services – Financial Services Brokerage." These records and Robinson's communications led the Consumers to falsely believe that their money was earning profits through Robinson's efforts. Nor did Robinson allow the Consumer to withdraw any funds, even when they asked.
- 11. Robinson's representations set forth in Paragraph 9 above constitute deceptive acts or practices with respect to a consumer financial product or service, to wit, engaging in deposit-taking activities, transmitting or exchanging funds, or otherwise acting as a custodian of funds or any financial instrument on behalf of a consumer.

B. Deceptive Acts or Practices, Debt Relief Services

- 12. Beginning in at least May 2019, Robinson offered to help consumers with debt relief by stating, "We will look into debt relief / student loan balance reduction payment and settlement options for you."
- 13. In one case, at least one Consumer agreed to pay Robinson one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for debt relief services. However, after the Consumer paid Robinson, Robinson never provided any services.
- 14. Robinson's representations set forth in Paragraph 13 above constitute deceptive acts or practices with respect to a consumer financial product or service, to wit, by representing that Robinson would provide debt relief services, but upon receiving payment no services were ever provided.

C. Unqualified, Non-Exempt Sale of Securities

- 15. Beginning in at least May 2019, after Robinson obtained custody of Consumer's funds, Robinson offered and sold securities in the form of investment contracts, in California, through telephone calls and email correspondence.
- The purported purpose of the securities offering was to raise money from members of 16. the public and in return Robinson promised a 10% annual return.
- 17. These securities were offered or sold in this state in issuer transactions. The Department of Financial Protection and Innovation has not issued a permit or other form of qualification authorizing any person to offer or sell these securities in this state and the securities are not exempt from qualification.

18. Robinson sold investment contracts to approximately two investors, residing in California and elsewhere, in at least two separate transactions. Robinson raised at least $194,000.00 from investors.

D. Misrepresentations of Material Fact, Offer and Sale of Securities

- 19. Robinson and their agents solicited investors and prospective investors through telephone calls and email correspondence.
- 20. In connection with the offer and sale of securities, Robinson made, or caused to be made, misrepresentations of material fact to investors and potential investors, including that Robinson Services was a brokerage services company. In fact, neither the California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation (Department) nor the United States Securities and Exchange Commission has ever issued a broker-dealer certificate to Robinson.
- 21. Robinson also misrepresented that investor money would be held in a brokerage account, in an escrow account earning interest, that the investment was safe, and that it would grow 10% annually. In fact, any money Robinson did return to investors was only a portion of their original investment no investor received any profits. And despite multiple requests for a refund, Robinson has failed to pay back her investors.
